Tax Reductions For 4 Townships And 2 Villages

Taxes are being reduced in four townships and two municipalities by the Fayette County Budget Commission.

The action came during the annual review of budgets for the county's political subdivisions.

The commission also distributed to the political subdivisions more than $131,000 in state collected and locally shared funds.

The tax rate changes were based on a tentative abstract of the 1970 property revaluation in Fayette County.

The real property tax base of the county rose about $14,282,142 in the 1970 revaluation as compared with the previous complete revaluation six years ago.

The revaluation of land and subsequent reduction of levies had an adverse effect on the Miami Trace School District by lowering its millage below the state minimum set for receipt of Ohio Foundation Funds.

THE NEW real property tax base of the county is estimated at $70,689,232 compared with $56,407,040 in 1964. The tax value of the county real property is 40 per cent of the real value, estimated at $176,723,080.

The real property value increased over $35 million from the 1964 value of $141,116,080.

In the Miami Trace School District, the tax valuation, including utility and personal property tax, rose to $77,364,034 for 1970, according to the commission report. The previous tax estimates were based on a total valuation of $67,216,551 from the 1964 revaluation.

By Ohio statute, the commission was required to reduce the millage in proportion to the increase in property worth caused by revaluation.

The district taxes were reduced from 17.7 mills to 17.1 mills. To receive state foundation money the minimum millage collected must be 17.5.

The system will be required to have the additional millage on the tax books by Jan., 1971.

The school system will receive the same $1,322,924 funds for operation under the new millage, but with the revised valuation, that it received before.

IN CONTRAST to the $10 million property tax value increase in the Miami Trace District, the tax value of property in the city system increased only about $1.5 million over the past five years.

The new base, including personal and utility property, is $34,837,270.

The operating levies of the city school system were left at 22.80 mills by the commission. A 3.90 mill levy (Please Turn To Page 2)

Coffee Break...

THE CITY patrolman who was dubbed by fellow officers as "Patrolman Mighty Mouse" recently after a harrowing experience with his nightstick and a cat, has done it again!

Ptl. "Mighty" got another animal complaint this week from a woman who wanted a severely injured dog put out of its misery. He found the stricken animal in an alley and proceeded to take care of the matter. But, in an embarrassed tone, he had to radio for assistance from another officer. His service revolver wouldn't fire.

Now, all officers on the police force undergo unannounced weapons inspections by superior officers.

THE AMIABLE padre, Fr. Richard J. Connelly, won't miss the chance of attending the first-ever Cleveland Browns-Cincinnati Bengals professional football game in Cincinnati Saturday. But, he's taking the easy way out.

Since Fr. Connelly is the Cleveland Browns' chaplain, a position he has held for years, he will be in Cincinnati today to be with the team and will travel to Riverfront Stadium with the players Saturday. But, there the fraternization will end.

Fr. Connelly is also a close friend of Paul Brown, from Cleveland days, and such former Browns as Cincinnati linebacker coach Vince Costello. He has been a familiar figure on the sidelines with PB and Costello since the Bengals were formed.

Saturday when he arrives at the stadium he will take a perch high above the playing field with the television announcers.

As Fr. Connelly explains it, "I can't afford to make anyone mad; they're so highly competitive that if I stood along the (Please Turn To Page 2)

4,152 Dead At Cost Of More Than Billion Dollars

Helicopter Losses Top 4,000

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command announced today that 4,008 American helicopters have been lost in the Vietnam war and 4,152 Americans were killed or presumed killed in them.

Informal sources, estimated the worth of the helicopters at more than a billion dollars, based on an average cost of roughly $250,000.

The U.S. Command's weekly summary of aircraft losses said 4,004 helicopters have been lost to all causes in North and South Vietnam, Laos and Cambodia since Jan. 1, 1961. A spokesman said four more were shot down over South Vietnam Wednesday and Thursday, bringing the total to 4,008.

U.S. headquarters said 1,736 of the helicopters were shot down in South Vietnam, 23 in Cambodia, 10 in North Vietnam and nine in Laos. Another 2,230 were destroyed as the result of rocket, mortar and other attacks on the ground, mechanical failures, air collisions and pilot error.

The U.S. Command said of the 43,418 Americans killed in action through last Saturday, 2,368 died in helicopters hit by enemy fire and another 1,748 were killed in helicopter accidents. In the two helicopters shot down this week, six Americans were killed and 30 others are missing and presumed dead.

The Army, Air Force and Marines have more than half a dozen types of helicopters operating in South Vietnam. They range from the tiny OH6 observation craft to the 88-foot-long HH53, the Jolly Green Giant whose primary function is rescue and recovery.

The command noted that more than 4,000 American helicopters are operating in Indochina, flying an average of 10,000 hours per day and frequently are exposed to both enemy fire and excessive wear.

The summary of aircraft losses also listed 1,388 fixed-wing planes shot down in the war, and another 1,801 lost to other causes. The command said 1,025 Americans have been killed aboard fixed-wing aircraft hit by enemy fire and another 672 U.S. servicemen have been killed in plane accidents.

On the battlefields, the U.S. Command said, action "continued light and scattered throughout the Republic of Vietnam during the past 24 hours, with no major ground contacts involving U.S. forces. Enemy-initiated activity against U.S. forces was confined to light ground action and attacks by fire," meaning rockets and mor-phew after his visit of just under five hours to Phnom Penh, the Cambodian capital.

Agnew said he made clear to Cambodian Premier Lon Nol that although the United States is willing to give him arms and economic aid, it wants to keep from becoming "militarily involved." But Cambodian officials were reported highly pleased by the visit, even if it results in no major increase in U.S. aid.

The vice president's visit was the clearest demonstration to date of American support for Lon Nol's regime, and the Cambodians viewed it as a tremendous psychological boost, both at home and abroad.

Agnew said Lon Nol's requests for additional arms aid beyond the $40 million Washington announced this week were "extremely modest," and he declared: "I see no prospect for our sending military advisers" into Cambodia.

Agnew said Sunday en route to Asia that the United States would do anything it could to help Lon Nol's government. But today he said he told the Cambodians at the start of the meetings "we wanted them to understand we did not want to become militarily involved in Cambodia."

The vice president flew to Phnom Penh from Saigon, where during an overnight stop he talked with South Vietnamese and U.S. officials.

"There is just amazing progress since my last visit," Agnew said, comparing the briefings with those he received on a visit to Vietnam on New Year's Day.

He said he could not state what troop withdrawals might take place after next spring, when the total of U.S. forces is scheduled to drop to 284,000 from a high of 549,000. But he indicated some U.S. troops may be needed in Vietnam for some time.

Reporting on a briefing from Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam, Agnew said the level of fighting has diminished considerably due to a "diminution of enemy capability." But he said the United States will continue to help the South Vietnamese until they are able to defend their country, and "that is going to take a awful lot of doing on their part."

He referred to the British-French Concorde which, he said, has produced better than expected results.

The Senate transportation appropriations subcommittee is conducting hearings on whether to continue the government's $1.3 billion assistance program to develop a faster-than-sound commercial airliner.

Last year the Treasury opposed a further heavy commitment of federal funds, asserting the SST probably would result in a further balance of pay-

Record 164,538 At Fair Opener

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — "Expohio '70" packed in a record 164,538 visitors Thursday, enhancing hopes of officials that the 12-day state fair will draw more than two million people again this year.

Attendance Thursday topped by 24,336 last year's opening day crowd of 140,202.

Brilliant summer weather with temperatures in the mid-80s helped bring out the good crowd. Another factor was the appearance of British recording star Englebert Humperdinck, who performed before a jammed free grandstand.

The weatherman predicted more of the same weather today.

A highlight of Thursday's fair activities was the crowning of Annette Thieman, 17, of Minster, as Ohio FFA Queen. She moves on to the Queen of Queens contest Sept. 6 for the Miss Ohio State Fair title.

Cincinnati's Roger Bacon High School won the Marching Band Festival. The 110-piece band, directed by Wes Neal, received a $1,500 cash prize, two band instruments and an invitation to provide halftime entertainment at professional football games in Cleveland and Cincinnati.

Field Local High School, Portage County, and Spencerville Local High School, Allen County, took second and third places, respectively.

Three Morrow County boys, Dick Wertz, John Lawyer and Dale Huvler, won the 4-H livestock judging contest.

The 4-H tractor driving event was captured by Carl Benrath of Columbus Grove, Putnam County. Steve Kinser of Pickaway County finished second and Lowell Miller of Fairfield County, third.

On tap for today's program, in addition to livestock judging and regular exhibits, were a balloon race, horse-pulling and pony-pulling contests, a 4-H horse show, junior fair barrow sale and square dancing.

Humperdinck continues performing at the grandstand, along with musician Doc Severinsen and the Dave Merrifield acrobats.

The Ohio Agriculture Council planned ceremonies today to enshrine four new members into its Agricultural Hall of Fame.

They included two living recipients, John A. Slipper, Ohio State University professor emeritus, and Samuel S. Studebaker, Tipp City farmer. Posthumous awards were designated for Dr. Edmund Secrest, first state forester in Ohio, and Cosmas D. Blubaugh, pioneer in soil and water conservation work.

Bomb Damages Legion Building

SEATTLE (AP) — A bomb shattered glass front door of the American Legion building in downtown Seattle early today and sent shards of glass scattering into the adjacent street, police reported.

Meany Rejects 'Preference' For Black Workers

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — AFL-CIO President George Meany says his labor organization will help advance the cause of civil rights, but will not give blacks "preferred status."

Speaking Thursday before some 2,500 delegates to the convention of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, Meany said:

"I am completely in accord with the standards of the skilled trades that they are not going to lower the standards in order to meet this problem."

Speaking of student unrest, Meany said, "The suspicion arises that the main idea is that they want to destroy our educational system."

"Dissent can be a means of improvement, but dissent without purpose seems to make no sense whatsoever. The right to dissent does not mean the right to loot and burn."

Cooper was appointed to the post today by Martin A. Janis, department director, to succeed Maury C. Koblenz who retired July 31 after 16 years as commissioner.

Cooper was the first Negro to ever serve as superintendent of a correctional institution in the United States.

A native of Cleveland, he joined the Mansfield Reformatory staff as director of psychological services in July, 1957. He holds a master's degree in psychology from Western Reserve University.

Cooper said one of his primary goals as corrections commissioner will be to upgrade employee salaries and fringe benefits. He also said he hopes to be able to establish a professional attitude among prison employees.

"One of the things we need," Cooper said, "is a feeling that everybody makes a contribution."

Cooper Named As Successor To Koblenz

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The new chief of the Division of Correction in the Ohio Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction is 49-year-old Bennet J. Cooper, superintendent of the Ohio State Reformatory at Mansfield for the past four years.

Cooper was appointed to the post today by Martin A. Janis, department director, to succeed Maury C. Koblenz who retired July 31 after 16 years as commissioner.

Cooper was the first Negro to ever serve as superintendent of a correctional institution in the United States.

Twice-Wounded Vietnam Vet Is Only 15 Years Old!

FT. CARSON, Colo. (AP) — Walter Lee Martin is a twice-wounded veteran of two tours in Vietnam and is only 15 years old, says the U.S. attorney's office.

Martin of Dothan, Ala., 6 feet 3 and 198 pounds, joined the Army three years ago under an assumed name and went to Vietnam where he was wounded at the age of 13. His real identity eventually was learned and he was shipped home, according to Asst. U.S. Atty. James Richards.

Now, two years later, the Army has found that Martin somehow got back into its ranks under another alias. And, Richards said, Martin has been married for four months.

Sometime after being sent home, Richards said, Martin obtained the identification and orders of a S. Sgt. Albert Lewis Jr., got back into the Army and was shipped to Vietnam where he again was wounded.

He was sent to Ft. Gordon, Ga., to recover from his wounds. Apparently while on leave from Ft. Gordon, Richards said, Martin—still posing as Lewis—went home to Alabama and married.

Early this month, he was assigned to duty with the military police at Ft. Carson.

The real S. Sgt. Albert Lewis Jr. was in Vietnam where he re-enlisted and requested emergency leave home.

While drawing up a pay voucher for Lewis' leave, the Army apparently learned they were paying two S. Sgts. Albert Lewis Jr., Richards said. The Army notified Ft. Carson and Martin was arrested by the FBI and charged with a fraud on the government.

Richards said he would request that prosecution be deferred and that the probation department recommend a course of action. He indicated Martin may be placed on one year probation and sent home.

interference of full freedom of adults to read, obtain or view what materials they wish."

The recommendation is based on commission findings pornography does not cause sex crimes or harm individuals. In addition, the commission reported, there is no public consensus to support such laws and they sometimes lead to suppression of legitimate material.

Repeal would not substantially increase the U. S. pornography industry, the commission said.

The White House disavowed the commission as former President Lyndon B. Johnson's shortly after the draft report was disclosed and said "it is safe to predict" President Nixon would oppose it.

Two commission members, Father Morton A. Hill of New York City and Charles H. Keating Jr. of Cincinnati, have already announced they will file dissenting views.

The source said there was some final-session vote switching against the repeal recommendation but not enough to alter final approval.

The 18-member commission completed its work with a seven-hour meeting Wednesday and a six-hour session Thursday, the source added, and almost certainly will not meet again although it does not go out of business until the end of September.

Commission To Urge Repeal Of Adult 'Porno' Laws

WASHINGTON (AP) — Repeal of all legal restrictions prohibiting adults from buying or possessing pornography reportedly has won final approval from the President's Commission on Pornography despite promised White House opposition.

Recommendations for laws against exposure of children to obscene pictures and a nationwide "sex re-education" program were also approved at a final commission meeting

Thursday, a commission source said.

He said the final report also recommends laws against public display of obscene pictures and their use in unsolicited mail advertisements.

It also calls for broad and open public discussion across the country—"based on facts rather than fears"—to forge a public consensus on the availability of pornography.

The arguments for the most controversial recommendation tion, repeal of all U.S. adult censorship laws, have been extensively rewritten since the Associated Press disclosed a draft report three weeks ago. But the recommendation is almost unchanged.

"The commission recommends federal, state and local legislation prohibiting the sale, exhibition or distribution of sexual materials to consenting adults should be repealed."

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A wealthy middle-aged couple, far removed from Hollywood's glittering young social set, read curiously of the Sharon Tate murders before killers stabbed them to death in similar bizarre style, a witness has testified at the Tate murder trial.

A news vendor, John Fokianos, said that the night Leno and Rosemary LaBianca were slain he chatted with them about the Tate killings.

"It was the event of the day," he testified Thursday. "It was big news. They seemed quite interested."

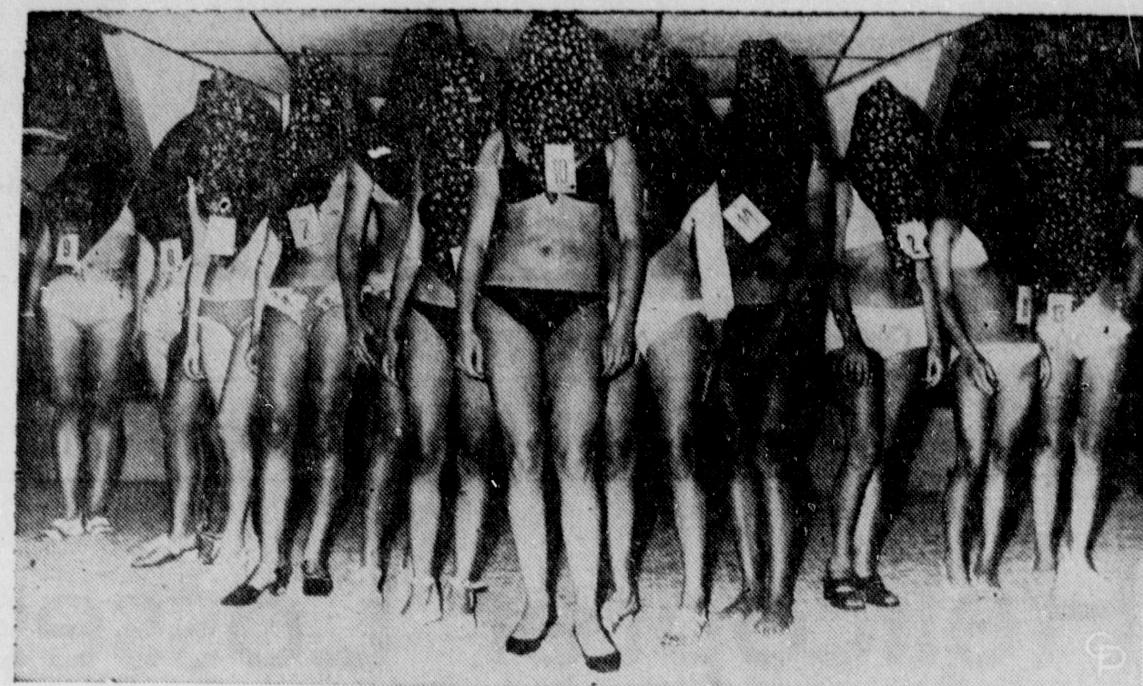

Fokianos told newsmen later that Mrs. LaBianca "seemed quite emotional about it. She seemed quite upset because it was quite gruesome. The details naturally got to her."

Charles M. Manson, 35, leader of a roving hippie-style "family," and three women followers, Susan Atkins, 21, Patricia Krenwinkel, 22, and Leslie Van Houten, 20, are on trial for murder-conspiracy in the five Tate slayings and the two LaBianca killings.

Nixon, in an Aug. 18 reply, said: "I agree with you on the importance of seeking mutually acceptable and just solutions to concrete international problems through appropriate methods of negotiation."

"It is our shared obligation to continue at all times our common efforts to preserve and strengthen international peace and justice."

"I therefore welcome—and join—your emphasis on the need to enhance our mutual understanding and cooperation in order to broaden the bases of peace and security."

WASHINGTON (AP) — College administrators have the responsibility of keeping order on their campuses, says FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover.

"College administrators," he said, "must rise to face the issues honestly and then have the courage to firmly implement policies that will not permit or condone any illegitimate interruption of the educational process."

Hoover, writing in the September issue of the bureau's Law Enforcement Bulletin said firmness should be shown not only against unruly students but faculty members who "act like rabid anarchists."

If the police must be called in, Hoover said, "enforcement of the law on campus must be vigorous yet never tainted with excessive force or the venting of emotions unworthy of a professional police officer."

Campus radicals "know well that their success in part is dependent upon weak administrators—leaders who refuse to accept the responsibility of maintaining order," he said.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Provisional licensing for the Monticello, Minn., nuclear power plant by the Atomic Energy Commission shows "the conflict of interest inherent in the AEC's attempt to regulate its own development of power resources," Sen. Walter F. Mondale, D-Minn., said today.

The commission decision allowing fuel loading and low power testing at the Northern State Power Co. facility ignores pending state and federal court cases regarding safety standards the senator said, as well as environmental considerations.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced a contract today providing for three launches by Italian scientists of American satellites, the first shot set for this fall.

Thus Italy is the first foreign country to launch an American satellite.

The launches will use three $25-million American Scout rockets at the Italian's San Marco test site in the Indian Ocean off Kenya. An Italian launch was conducted there in 1967.

The satellites will map stars and probe celestial x-ray and gamma ray sources.

WASHINGTON (AP) — State Department officials have told Korean Embassy representatives Vice President Spiro T. Agnew was looking into the future when he talked recently of a complete withdrawal of American forces following modernization of the South Korean army.

U.S. authorities pointed out Agnew did not say there are plans for total withdrawal of U.S. ground forces. There is too much to be done at this time in preparing for a 20,000-man cut-back which will be completed by June 30, 1971, they said.

Some officials here displayed surprise that Agnew had projected U.S. withdrawals at a time when Koreans are alarmed by the reduction of 20,000 men. They questioned whether his mission had proven reassuring to the government of President Park Chung-hee.

But experts on U.S. policy say the Korean government has been told many times the United States could not and would not make any commitment on the type of forces or the period of time these forces would be kept in Korea.

The Korean government also has been assured the United States will not make any significant withdrawals without consultations, although the final decision on removing U.S. forces remains with Washington authorities.

None of the reductions were made because of increases in the property revaluation, according to Mrs. Morris.

All the reductions were caused by balances in the political subdivisions' accounts.

MILLAGE in Jefferson Township was reduced from 3.80 to 3.50. The change was caused by a .20 mill drop in the fire protection levy.

In Marion Township, the millage was reduced from 4.3 to 4.10 mills; also due to a drop in the fire protection levy.

Union Township millage was reduced from 3.35 to 3.00 mills. Reductions in the road and bridge levy from 1.30 to 1.20 mills and in the voted fire levy from 1.45 to 1.20 mills caused the change.

In Wayne Township, the operating millage was reduced from 2.20 to 1.90 mills.

Hearings on the Jasper Township budget have been postponed until later.

The township millages that remained the same were at Concord, 2; Green, 1.8; Madison, 1.90; Paint, 1.60; Perry, 1.10.

BLOOMINGBURG millage was reduced from 5.95 to 5.65 by the commission.

The municipality's operating levy of 1.50 mills was reduced to 1.40 mills, and its fire levy was dropped from 2 mills to 1.80 mills.

Jeffersonville millage was changed from 4.90 mills to 4.80 mills. The operating levy was reduced from 2.90 mills to 2.90 mills.

Only in Washington C. H. did the millage rate increase for 1970 collections compared with 1969. The rise from 5.60 mills to 5.95 mills was caused by an additional voted one mill operating levy.

Tax Reductions

is on the fall ballot for renewal.

Money distributed to the townships and municipalities of the county included $150,828 from the local government funds of the state.

The distribution was composed of $60,000 collected locally from sales taxes and $90,828 from intangible taxes.

THE TOWNSHIPS, as required by statute, received 10 per cent of the funds, or about $15,083. Others receiving the money were:

Washington C. H., $62,038; Fayette County, $62,038; Jeffersonville, $5,600; Bloomington, $4,360; Oeta $560; New Holland, $250; and Milledgeville, $900.

The $900 distribution was made to Milledgeville despite the failure of the municipality to ask for the funds.

Washington C. H. and the county each received half of the money left in the fund after distributions were made to the other county political subdivisions.

An additional $81,000 in classified taxes was distributed by the commission.

State statute requires that no political subdivision receive more in classified taxes than will be collected within its jurisdiction within one year.

THE DISTRIBUTIONS were as follows: Jeffersonville, $600; Bloomington, $150; Milledgeville, $300; Washington C. H., $10,950; the county, $12,000; and Carnegie Public Library, $57,000.

The library had requested $63,842 in classified taxes. State law provides that the classified taxes be earmarked for the libraries if they can show proper need. It has been several years since the library has received this large a portion of the classified tax.

The City of Washington had requested $40,000 from the classified tax, but received only $10,950. However, the city will be receiving additional funds from inheritance taxes during the coming year that should partly compensate for the reduction in the classified tax receipts, according to Auditor Mary Morris.

Townships in which millage was reduced were Jasper, Marion, Union and Wayne. The levies also were reduced in Bloomington and Jeffersonville corporations.

Official weather bureau summary for Ohio:
Skies were clear and winds were light last night. As dawn approached, fog formed in many of the southern valleys, especially near the Ohio River, and winds began to increase near Lake Erie.

Temperatures were in the 60s through Ohio at 6 a.m. They ranged from a low of 63 in Zanesville to a high of 68 in Mansfield and Dayton.

A ridge of high pressure from New England to the Carolinas, then southwest to Texas is giving way as a cold front approaches the lower Great Lakes and Ohio.

At dawn the front extended from northern Lake Huron through central Michigan to southern Iowa. A second ridge, from the Canadian northwest to the Dakotas, is pushing southeast in the wake of the front.

Few clouds mark the cold front at this time. As it continues southeast, cloudiness will increase, especially this afternoon in the lower Great Lakes area and northern counties of Ohio.

A few thundershowers are expected by late morning and early afternoon just ahead of the front. The most noticeable weather feature after the front moves through will be a drop in humidity.

Is Management Too Much Success-Oriented?

By LINDA RUBEY
AP Business Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The great genius of American industry is the art of management, and organization, almost everyone concedes.

Foreign companies clamor for men with experience in American firms, for American management consultants, for anyone who can teach them the management techniques that have so far sustained the affluent society. And American managers are just as high in their praise when they evaluate the system that has almost put a "chicken in every pot," or translated into modern terms, two cars in every garage.

All of which sounds good until one considers the performance, or rather lack of performance, in the business community in the past year.

The current slump in the business cycle is hardly conducive to bold leaps forward. But if American management is doing so many things right, why are so many things going wrong? Is it perhaps that American management rates star billing only when times are good for selling.

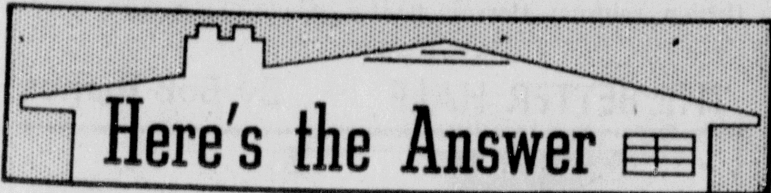

"We Americans have always taken a lot of pleasure in telling ourselves how good we are," observes George F. Lombard, senior associate dean for educational affairs at the Harvard University Business School. "And it's equally true that the American business culture, as most business cultures, is relatively success-oriented."

Lombard contends that American business would perform better if it attempted to operate with an understanding of broad social problems rather than just concentrating on its own limited area of interest.

To clarify the point, Lombard points to a passage in the book "The Theory of Social Revolution" written decades ago by a man named Brooks Adams. According to Adams, the American specialty is making money. And he says, most American businessmen are too busy making profits in specialized areas to comprehend fundamental or over-all social considerations.

True administration, Lombard points out, is defined by Adams as the art of generalization. In other words, it is the ability to coordinate many diverse factors into a coherent whole.

Modern management, Adams asserts, has developed in the opposite direction. Specialization is the ultimate end, he says. The problem, according to both Adams and Lombard, is that American business is too specialized to do any good for itself or for the increasingly complex society in which it operates.

Q. — I am getting ready to put the framework in an attic I plan to refinish. I want to have at least two built-in closets. Is it better to finish the framework and then make cutouts where I want the closets to be?

A. — By all means, leave space for the closets when setting up the studs. Otherwise you will have double work. The important thing is to use double 2 by 4s at all closet door openings and over the doors. It is also a good idea to purchase the closet doors before beginning the framework. You then can make the openings to fit the doors rather than attempting to make the doors fit openings already made.

A. — We saw quarry tile on the kitchen floor of a house we visited while on vacation a year ago. Now we'd like to install it on our outside porch. The porch has a roof on it, but it is open at the sides and when it is both rainy and windy, water gets on the porch floor. Will the tile stand up under this?

A. — Quarry tile can be used both indoors and outdoors. But if you are going to do the job yourself, be sure you get the special adhesive designed for outdoor use. It is sold by the dealer from whom you buy the tile.

Q. — I have an old chestnut table I bought in an antique store. It has a textured finish that I would like to make smooth. I have been told that the open pores will have to be closed with wood filler. After the filler is on, can I apply varnish over it?

A. — The open pores do not HAVE to be closed. You may completely destroy the antique appearance of the table if you fill the pores and then put on a final coat of varnish. However, if this is what you are certain you want to do it is essential, after the filler has dried a day or two, that you put on a coat of sealer. When the sealer has hardened, then apply the varnish. If you have never used wood filler in the past, better experiment first on the underside of the table, not only to enable you to get the hang of it but to determine whether the effect is what you want.

No More Rail Firemen?

Optimism vies with skepticism in the matter of the presidential emergency panel's recommendation for settlement of the dispute over railroad firemen. The skepticism is well nourished by recollection that this has been with us on and off for so many years. Optimism is pretty much based on the notion that, after so long a time, both parties to the dispute must surely be in a mood for fruitful compromise.

In a sense, the proposal offered by the presidential panel in an effort to head off a strike next month is a kind of exercise in semantics. The idea is that the duties of firemen and brakemen on diesel locomotives would be combined, so that in effect there would soon be no more "firemen." Actually, there is more to the plan than that. Elimination of most of the firemen's jobs is not a new idea. Some 90 per cent of such jobs were knocked out as a result of compulsory arbitration ordered by Congress in 1964. This arrangement, however, lasted only until 1966 — since which time the union has been seeking restoration of about 18,000 firemen's jobs. To an impartial observer, the solution proposed by the emergency board seems reasonable. No new "firemen" would be hired, but on a given date men holding seniority as firemen would bid for the new fireman-brakeman and remaining fireman jobs. The fireman classification would gradually be eliminated by attrition. The panel's avowed optimism as to acceptance of this by the disputants may have a sound basis. After many years of controversy over this issue, however, one can only say: Let's wait and see.

'Demonstrator' Changes Pace; He Plays Flute

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP) — A long-haired youth who wouldn't give his name wandered around police headquarters for two hours, leaving strains of music behind him.

"I play my flute because I like to play my flute—what better place than to play my flute here," he said as police officers smiled, but otherwise ignored him.

The youth wandered to a courtroom, where he said he was demonstrating for a friend facing a charge of indecent exposure. Then he strolled off to the street, still playing.

Dear Abby: Nurse Urged To Act Fast On Drug Abuse

DEAR ABBY: I am a registered nurse and work in a small hospital. Our director of nurses is a young divorcee. Recently, while on duty, I observed this girl "sign out" a narcotic in the name of a patient and disappear into the ladies room with it. Moments later she returned to the nurses' station where she charted the medication on the patient's chart and continued making rounds.

Abby, I know this girl took the drugs herself, but I have no proof. The patient in whose chart she charted the medication is elderly and very disoriented most of the time, so questioning him would prove nothing. I have noticed, more recently, that narcotics have been signed out by this same nurse and charted on the charts of other patients in the same mental condition as the elderly gentleman.

I haven't reported this to anyone as I have no proof, but perhaps I should. Or should I mind my own business, hoping someone else will discover the same thing?

"ELWOOD"

DEAR ELWOOD: Report your suspicions to the hospital director, or senior administrator. Independently of what he says or does, also notify the director of the State Board of Nursing. A confidential investigation will be made and the situation will be handled from that point on. You will then have discharged your obligation properly, and perhaps the young woman with the alleged drug problem can be helped.

Young Disturbed By Agnew Trip, Promises Of Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — "Americans should say, 'Spiro, please come home!'" Sen. Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio, told the Senate Thursday.

Young said Vice President Spiro T. Agnew should come back to Washington and preside over the Senate rather than give taxpayers' money to Asians.

The vice president, who also is president of the Senate, is nearing the end of his first week of an Asian trip for President Richard Nixon.

Young said he is discouraged and frustrated to read of Agnew's promises of war planes to South Korea and other aid to the Cambodian government during his trip.

DEAR ABBY: This is the second marriage for both of us, and it would be perfect except for one thing. My husband wants to go visit his daughter on our vacation and I don't want to go because the last time we went my whole vacation was spoiled by something which upset me.

In the bedroom where his daughter put us there was a large picture of her mother. It was setting on the bureau facing the bed. It could have been placed in another room while we were there. Being a mother myself I thought it would be wrong of me to ask her to remove it, so I didn't say a word.

I can't understand why she would want to hurt me that way. She knows I have been a good wife to her father. Her mother died an alcoholic and gave her father a lot of trouble.

Am I wrong to feel the way I do? Would you go again if you were in my place?

An Education By Mail

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

The 50 million middle-aged Americans between 40 and 65 make up only a fourth of the population, but they earn more than half the national income, own more than half of the stock in all U. S. corporations, account for 40 per cent of the female labor force, and vote more than any other age group.

So how about a National Middle-Age Day to salute them?

One of the most restricted groups of people on earth are the 100,000 Chinese who live aboard fishing and cargo junks in Hong Kong harbor. Many spend their entire lives aboard these picturesque vessels without ever stepping ashore.

Businessmen's conventions are no longer stag splees. Some 2,825,000 delegates attended 829 conventions in New York City last year, and 60 per cent of the men brought along their wives.

Sleep doesn't come cheap in this country. We now are spending more than $80 million annually for sleeping pills and portions of all kinds—plus millions more for such sleeping aids as ear plugs, eye masks and mechanical vibrating beds.

Never monkey around with a chimpanzee. One of these apes weighing 120 pounds or less, if aroused, could maul a 250-pound pro football tackle unconscious and leave him toothless in less than a minute.

Final Open Air Service Sunday In MT Stadium

Dr. Paul Jones, pastor of the Hillsboro Church of Christ, will deliver the message at the fifth and final open air service Sunday night in the Miami Trace stadium.

Attendance at the previous four services totaled 1,487. This, said the Rev. Keith Wooley, pastor of the Hickory Lane Church of Christ who presides at the services, is more than attended the services last year. He added that the response "has been very gratifying."

Attendance at the first service, Aug. 2, was 408; at the second, 294, at the third, 371 and at the fourth last Sunday 414. The second and third services were held in the school auditorium because of inclement weather.

The series was sponsored for the second consecutive year by four churches in the area — Washington C. H. South Side Church of Christ, Jeffersonville Church of Christ, First Christian Church of Washington C. H. and the Hickory Lane Church of Christ. Pastors of these churches delivered the messages.

Church Eyes Family Drug Problem

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

If you discover your son or daughter is using drugs, don't turn the youngster over to police or go into a rage and order him out of the house. "Keep your cool and don't panic."

These tips were offered at a conference on the drug crisis and the church at Gloria Baptist Assembly grounds near Santa Fe, N.M., last week, sponsored by the Southern Baptist Christian Life Commission.

Instead of calling the police, a parent who learns his child is using drugs should call a physician and seek his advice and help, said the Rev. Dr. Henlee H. Barnette, a professor of Christian ethics.

Usually, he said, a physician will be sympathetic and know what further steps to take for rehabilitation.

He said turning a youngster over to police could be one of the most damaging things a parent can do, and might turn the youth permanently against his parents and result in his expulsion from school and imprisonment.

Prison could mean a "post-graduate course in real crime," the professor added.

Dr. Barnette, of Louisville's Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, said one of the first things a parent should do is to talk openly with their youngster about his problem—and to listen, as well as give advice. "The victim of drugs needs to be heard rather than harrassed and harassed," he said.

"Scare tactics" to try to frighten children off drugs won't work, he added, saying it would only cause them to "turn a deaf ear" because they usually know more about drug effects than the parents.

Such tactics, he said, simply cause "further alienation."

If the youngster has become a pusher—a drug peddler—and won't voluntarily seek help, the parents may have to notify authorities, he said, adding:

"If he is a junky and will not seek help, about the only thing parents can do is to kick him out." Dr. Barnette said that for parents to continue to support a pusher would merely feed his habit, which would get bigger.

It would "keep him an infant, a baby, and this is what he wants. He must give up drugs, or leave." But Dr. Barnette said before taking such drastic action, every effort should be made to get the youngster into a hospital or rehabilitation program.

He said the church, in order to deal effectively with the drug problem, must develop special ministries within the drug culture and a "fellowship of sharing" to help the addict break the chemical walls separating him from others. He added: "Wherever men stand in need of help and healing, this is where the church is to be."

Witness Assembly Set For Sept. 4-6

Ministers, Bible teachers, speakers, convention technicians, ministerial workers and many volunteers from throughout Southeastern Ohio will attend the Circuit Assembly of Jehovah's Christian Witnesses Sept. 4-6 in Columbus. More than 2,000 Bible students are expected to fill the historic Ohio Theater for the sessions.

Billie D. Dewees, presiding minister of the Washington C. H. congregation, will be the installation supervisor of this assembly. He pointed out that "the unique growth of the vast missionary organization necessitates almost yearly changes in ministerial supervisors and local congregation servants."

Special baptismal and ordination services for many new ministers will be held at the Assembly, he said.

Grandma, 57 To Get Degree At Kent State

KENT, Ohio (AP) — A 57-year-old grandmother from Canton who had to quit school in the seventh grade will receive her master of education degree in commencement exercises at Kent State University.

Mrs. Sophia Hasen had to drop out of school in Amsterdam, an Ohio coal mining town, when her mother died leaving three younger sisters and a brother in her care.

She vowed to return to school one day, and 11 years ago she applied for admission to KSU. On the basis of test scores she was accepted.

She was told that only 2 per cent of persons with an educational background such as hers ever make it through college, but Mrs. Hasen made the grade, receiving her bachelor's degree last year.

She is to begin teaching a class of mentally retarded students at Canton McKinley high next month.

School Funds Short

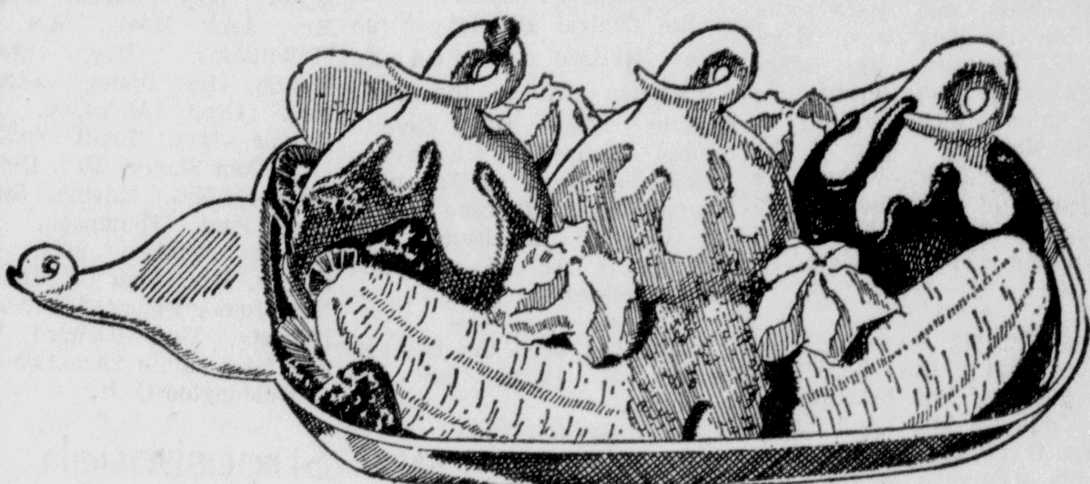

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — The Youngstown Board of Education says the city school district needs an additional $500,000 in operating funds to grant certified teachers an 8 per cent salary increase recommended by a judge and a three-member fact-finding panel.

$40,000 Approved For KSU Jury Probe

Pants Are Cropped For 'Cape Season'

Paris Hangs Up Miniskirts, At Least For Cold Months

By LUCIE NOEL
AP Fashion Writer

PARIS (AP) — Paris said goodbye to the miniskirt for winter this year and added a bit of an au revoir to pants as such. Pictures of the collections are being released today.

The newest pants are cropped, just like Oliver Twist's. And jackets that go with them are cropped too, stopping just at the hipbone. Why? "It's younger looking," says "Coco" Chanel.

Courreges' are tabbed and strapped along battle-jacket lines and he shows some this year with ankle-length, barely flared skirts.

Even more than a jacket year, it's a cape season. They are stepping forth for every hour and every occasion. Postilion style shoulder capes appear on beautiful topcoats at Givenchy. Others enfold the wearer in plaid wools straight from the moors and Lorna Doone. And the fur-lined, hooded capes "for sleighing" would have done well on Anna Karenina.

Cardin likes caped ensembles and shows them over tunics or ankle length dresses or pants that are generally cropped.

Venet's sensational line of coats feature cape sleeves. The collections are full of divided culotte skirts and newest of all — breeches or knickers that tuck into high top boots.

Theme and color this year are part of a Russian invasion.

Not since 1814, when Russian Cossacks were in Paris, has there been anything like it—traditional embroidery, costumes, shirts, topcoats, kerchiefs that turn you into a boujik or a member of a Mongol horde.

Designers like Yves Saint-Laurent and Sardin were in a bit of a wild west mood too. Yves does fabulous things with leather and decorates coats with gold nailheads and hobnail boots and belts. Leather has just run through all social barriers. Fringed boleros, tender colored evening dresses at Cardin, topcoats, skirts and ensembles are all in leather.

Mrs. Follis Entertains

A potluck luncheon was enjoyed at the home of Mrs. Zoe Follis, when members of the Silver Belles Grandmothers Club met there Tuesday.

Mrs. Ted Merritt presented devotions and at the business session the following new officers were elected: President, Mrs. Frances Toops; vice president, Mrs. Elizabeth Smith; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Dorothy Souther; chaplain, Mrs. Blanche Merritt; cards, Mrs. Pauline Toops; and news reporter, Mrs. Edith Scott.

Mrs. Follis conducted the meeting and announced that Mrs. Dorothy Souther will be hostess for the Sept. 29 meeting.

Members present were Mrs. Lola Aleshire, Mrs. Florence Bethards, Mrs. Vesper Flint, Mrs. Claudius Lamb, Mrs. Blanche Merritt, Mrs. Ethel Stephenson, Mrs. Minnie Smith, Mrs. Frances Toops, Mrs. Pauline Toops and Mrs. Dorothy Souther, with Melissa Mark, was a guest.

Miami Trace Cafeterias Ready For Opening Day

Lunches will be served in all of Miami Trace school cafeterias on opening day next Tuesday.

The rising costs of food, supplies and labor, has forced an increase of 5 cents in the daily cost of the lunches. This action was taken by the Board of Education after a study of past, present and future financial situations in the lunchroom funds.

There has been a steady decline in the amount of government commodities offered, and, according to word received from the State School Food Services Department no money has been appropriated for the special milk program for this year. This forces schools to charge the full price for all extra milk sold.

Each type "A" lunch includes two ounces of protein; 3/4 cup of vegetable or fruit or combination of both; one slice of bread; butter and a half pint of milk. All elementary schools will serve the type "A" lunch.

At the high school the same plan will be followed as last year, with a choice of vegetables, fruits and desserts. Extra sandwiches will be sold to those buying a plate lunch. Extra milk and ice cream will also be available.

New prices will be for students in grades 1 thru 8, 40 cents; grades 9-12 45 cents and adults 55 cents. Extra milk will cost, 7 cents.

At the high school all meat sandwiches will remain 20 cents and cheese or peanut butter 15 cents, ice cream 10 cents, and extra milk 7 cents.

THE LUNCH MENU for the Miami Trace school district the week of Sept. 1-4 follows:

Turmoil Mounts Over Air Fares

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Civil Aeronautics Board attempt to set air fares has brought a flood of complaints and triggered an industry-wide quarrel over rates.

Even 32 congressmen who won a court order outlawing fare increases earlier this year appear somewhat appalled at the resulting turmoil.

They suggested Thursday it might be best for the CAB to leave the illegal fares in effect long enough to determine what is legal.

The problem dates back to last fall when the CAB rejected proposed fare increases as excessive. As a substitute, the CAB set a 6.35 per cent rate hike for the 11 trunk lines and 7 per cent for the nine local-service airlines.

The new fares went into effect last Oct. 1.

But the group of congressmen filed suit and the U.S. Court of Appeals invalidated the new fares on grounds the CAB had approved the schedule without due public notice.

Following orders of the CAB, the airlines filed revised fares to be effective Oct. 15. The CAB plans to rule on these by Sept. 15.

The new fare proposals differ sharply, and the airlines are at odds over them.

The group of congressmen charged Thursday all of the new filings are tainted by the illegal CAB order of last Sept. 12.

They said there is a serious question on the manner in which the new fare proposals were arrived at, because letters of instruction from individual airlines to their common agent, the Airline Tariff Publishers, Inc., have been made available to other airlines.

The net result was a substantially similar tariff filing by a number of carriers, thus raising the issue of possible violation of antitrust laws, they said.

The congressmen asked the CAB to suspend its investigation of the new fare proposals while it determines the fares that should apply. Meanwhile, the group said, the CAB either should roll back the fares to the level that prevailed last Sept. 30, or leave the current illegal fares in effect until legal fares have been established.

Anti-War Senators Hopeful; See 40 Votes As 'Victory'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. George McGovern says he and other Senate war critics will consider anything above 40 votes a moral victory for the "amendment to end the war."

"I'm hopeful we'll get a majority of votes in the Senate," McGovern said.

But anything above 40 votes, he said, would be a declaration "that for the first time in the history of the United States a very substantial number of senators have voted to terminate a war in the midst of hostilities."

"That would be a remarkable expression, I think, of the discontent and concern in the country about an indefinite involvement in this war," said McGovern, a South Dakota Democrat.

Opponents of the amendment have denounced it as a blueprint for the first military defeat in U.S. history.

A vote on the amendment is scheduled Tuesday.

Republican Leader Hugh Scott has predicted about 35 votes for the amendment, which sets a Dec. 31, 1971, deadline for U.S. military disengagement and withdrawal from Southeast Asia.

"I submit that Vietnamization exposes American men to more danger than virtually any other alternative," McGovern said Thursday of President Nixon's war policy.

"It literally invites the sort of defeat the administration fears so deeply."

"The hard truth is that events in Cambodia have dealt a staggering blow to the whole Vietnamization strategy," he said.

Citing Vice President Spiro T. Agnew's remark last weekend that the United States will do everything it can to help the Lon Nol Cambodian regime, McGovern said:

"It means that we are now, in Cambodia, right back where we started in Vietnam a decade ago."

"The only difference is that thus far South Vietnamese forces are used to shore up the Cambodian government while American manpower takes their place back in Vietnam."

Enrollment Of Around 2,925 Expected; Up Slightly

City Schools Set To Open Tuesday

The belt-tightening the Board of Education and school administration has been doing for the last several months has put the Washington C. H. schools in pretty good financial condition, all things considered and by comparable standards.

They are not completely without problems, but they have been whittled down to the place where they can be handled without too much sacrifice when classes, with a total enrollment of around 2,925, are resumed Tuesday after the summer vacation.

The teaching staff has been reduced by five — three in the elementary schools, two in the junior and senior high schools.

No major changes have been made in the curriculum and purchase of new textbooks has been held to around $5,000. New reading textbooks for the elementary schools cost around $1,500 and those for the social psychology, biology and typing courses in senior high school approximately $3,500.

The course in Asian history has been discontinued and a course on current economic problems added for the junior high school.

The city schools may not be entirely out of the financial woods, but at least they are not as far in as most schools. Superintendent Marshall D. Boggs commented that "there never was a school system which was not in need of money and the Washington C. H. schools are no different."

Anticipated revenue for the coming school year is $1,468,263 and the estimated expenses in the budget $1,535,252 — that's a difference of about $67,000.

What can be done about it? School officials agree they can see only one thing to do — cut expenses some more. They admit some of the cuts may be painful and even impractical, but there's no alternative. Most of the trimming, it was indicated, will be in property maintenance and purchase of new equipment.

The teaching staff of 126 last year has been reduced by five, to 121, three in the elementary schools and two who divided time between the junior and senior high school industrial arts and music departments.

Two special education classes are included again, one for the elementary schools and one for junior high school.

Special classes with emphasis on reading for pupils in the first three grades will be taught by Mrs. Edith Parsley, former member of the Cherry Hill School faculty.

There will be 53 teachers in the elementary schools, three less than last year, 28 in the junior high school and 34 in the senior high school. Three of these will teach half a day in each school. All told, there will be 115 teachers in the city schools. Six of them will be new to the system this year, all replacements for teachers who have gone to other schools or retired.

The anticipated enrollment of 2,925 Tuesday will be slightly more than that of last year.

Hugh Rea, the elementary school coordinator, estimated there will be 500 students at Eastside, 435 at Belle Aire, 190 at Cherry Hill, 140 at Rose Avenue and 140 at Sunnyside.

Rea said there is sufficient classroom space for the anticipated enrollment, but added that there may have to be some shifting of students from one school to another to equalize the enrollment in various rooms. The most likely shift, he said, will be from Cherry Hill to Belle Aire.

Reassignment of pupils is not a serious problem, he noted, because most of the pupils ride the buses.

Enrollment in the junior high school is estimated at 220 in the seventh grade, 225 in the eighth grade and 200 in the ninth grade freshman class — a total of 665.

Enrollment in the senior high school is expected to have 230 in the sophomore class, 220 in the junior class and 205 in the senior class — a total of 655.

Six half-day kindergarten classes will have a total enrollment of around 200. Two classes will be held in the morning and two in the afternoon in the junior high school building and one class will be held in the morning and one in the afternoon in the Sunnyside School.

How Far Do We Go In Cambodia?

By ROBERT A. DOBKIN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Statements by administration officials on Cambodia in recent days have left President Nixon with wide latitude for future U.S. activities there. But how deeply he intends to commit the United States remains unclear.

Administration critics fear the U.S. commitment to Cambodia is deepening much as it did in Vietnam in the 1960s.

They point to the new $40 million military assistance pact, intensified U.S. air strikes and statements from high officials like Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, who said, "We're going to do everything we can to help the Lon Nol government."

Administration officials, however, insist there is no commitment. They say the reason for helping Cambodia is not to keep the present government in power but to protect American forces in South Vietnam and to assure the success of the Vietnamization program for turning the fighting over to the South Vietnamese so American troops can come home.

Whatever the rationale, the events of recent days would appear to indicate the creeping commitment to keep the Lon Nol government in power and the Communists out of Cambodia.

On his first Asian trip, seven months ago, Agnew predicted the policy of non-involvement "in any other combat activities" in Southeast Asia unless the President and Congress agree the situation was "very extreme."

Sunday, while returning for his second Asian visit, the Vice President declared "the whole matter of Cambodia is related to the security of our troops in Vietnam."

A Communist takeover in Cambodia, he said, "would make it impossible for the Vietnamization program and the disengagement of American troops."

Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird told a news conference Wednesday he had no trouble reconciling the Pentagon position with that of the Vice President.

When asked about the use of U.S. air power in Cambodia, Laird said, "If we can destroy enemy supplies, destroy enemy troops in Cambodia with a minimum casualty rate, I'm for it and I will authorize it."

This was the broadest use yet suggested for sending U.S. planes into Cambodia since the American troops abandoned the Cambodian sanctuaries in June. Despite the $40 million in military aid, the stepped-up air strikes and the rhetoric of government officials, the Nixon administration claims to have remained within the boundaries of its policy of helping Cambodia as outlined by a high White House official for newsmen June 30.

The official said "a reasonable amount of military assistance" would be given Cambodia and the administration "will do what we reasonably can to support the Asian countries in that area, to protect the integrity and neutrality and sovereignty of Cambodia."

"What we will not do, insofar as the dividing line can be drawn," the official said, "is to fight a Cambodian war with American forces."

The administration believes domestic public sentiment is against a wider U.S. combat involvement and has committed itself to withdrawing from Vietnam.

In the view of administration officials, however, U.S. airpower does not represent any further commitment of U. S. forces to another country.

"The planes aren't based in Cambodia," one official said. "No American lives are being lost, and the aircraft can be pulled in or out on a moment's notice."

Sabina Curfew Is In Effect

SABINA — The ordinance providing for a curfew on all minors under the age of 18 will remain in effect indefinitely, according to Mayor Edward Hodge.

The curfew prohibits activities by youth in public places between midnight and 5 a.m. on Friday and Saturday, and 11 p.m. to 5 a.m. during the rest of the week.

Passed as an emergency measure, the curfew was instituted by council to curtail the activities of a "very small group" of kids "who were running around," Mayor Hodge said. He added, "Their parents don't care where they are or how late they're out."

The ordinance provides for a warning on the first offense and fines or jail sentences, or both, for parents of repeat offenders. The mayor said some warnings have been issued since the measure went into effect.

Youths, accompanied by parents or guardians, are not affected by the ordinance, Hodge said.

China Trade Restrictions Eased — But Only Slightly

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is taking another small step to ease trade relations with Red China, officials said today.

The State Department is dropping a long-standing requirement that free-world ships engaged in trade with China may not use bunkering or fueling, facilities owned by American firms unless a check shows the ships are not carrying strategic goods.

The move is a relatively minor one. The old regulation was described as a nuisance to U.S. firms, and easing it is expected to allow them to compete with other countries for ship-fueling business.

The relaxation also fits in with the Nixon administration's over-all effort to improve relations with Communist China and with its steps over the past year to loosen trade and travel restrictions.

But the general Washington-Peking political relationship continues almost stationary. U.S. officials said the Chinese have yet to set a date for the next American-Chinese ambassadorial meeting at Warsaw, despite U.S. interest in holding more sessions. The last one was in February.

The bunkering regulation was part of the embargo against Red China and Communist North Korea dating back to the Korean War. It applies to ship-fueling facilities in the Pacific and Indian Ocean areas.

Under the new version, the officials said, Red Chinese and North Korean vessels will continue to be barred altogether from U.S.-owned bunkering facilities, and European Communist ships trading with China still will be subject to a cargo check if they want to be fueled at U.S. facilities. American ships still are barred from the Asian Communist mainland.

Campaign Briefs

WILLOUGHBY, Ohio (AP)—Howard Metzbaum said here today the social crisis in America is "not a symptom of failure, but a test of the great American concept of self-rule, self-government and freedom."

The Democratic Senate candidate told a businessmen's luncheon that citizens must "close the gaps" between groups for the nation to move forward.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Universities face an "unparalleled" threat if administrators do not deal firmly with students who practice anarchy and keep the schools open, according to Robert Taft Jr., Republican candidate for the Senate.

"Unless they can deal effectively with the problem, I fear a backlash against funding education that could be a national disaster," Taft said in a statement issued Thursday by his campaign headquarters.

WAPAKONETA, Ohio (AP)—If he is elected governor, one of his top objectives will be to streamline Ohio's welfare system, Roger Cloud said here Thursday night.

The Republican nominee told a fund-raising gathering the state spends almost as much on welfare as it does supporting schools.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Republican gubernatorial candidate Roger Cloud has appointed Lancaster Mayor William E. Burt as chairman of the Fairfield County Cloud-for-Governor Committee. City Treasurer Karen Henderson was named chairwoman.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The three candidates for governor, Republican Roger Cloud, Democrat John J. Gilligan and Edwin Lawton of the American Independent Party, will address the opening session Sunday night of the Ohio Education Association's Local Leaders Conference at Kent State University.

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine, will be the speaker at a Democratic $100-a-plate fund-raising dinner here Sept. 25.

Chrome, used extensively today in the decorative features of automobiles, is a soft silver-colored, rustproof metal, which is both attractive and easy to care for and clean.

Harsh metal polishes and cleaning powders should never be used on chrome as they will wear off the plating, and salts and chemicals will cause corrosion. This metal usually needs only to be wiped with a soft, damp cloth and polished with a dry one, to keep it's shine and beauty. However, if it should become spotted by grease, mud, or gummy substances, rub them off with whiting on a damp cloth or use silver polish, then buff with a dry, soft cloth.

Mobile home maintenance is quite easy also, as their manufacturers specify easy to care for construction materials to give you the most in beauty and cost you less to maintain. The mobile home owner never needs scaffolds or high ladders either, to inspect, remodel or repair his home, because most all renovations can be done from a step-ladder.

Live easy, live modern, live economically in a new mobile home. See and select the make, model and size of your choice at C & W MOBILE HOME SALES. What you don't know about mobile homes and mobile home living we can show you, and what you learn about them, you'll never forget, because you won't want to.

Ohio Politicos Skittish Over Wiretap Issue

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The disclosure that Republican State Chairman John S. Andrews' home telephone was tapped has touched off a batch of requests that other phones be checked.

Democratic Chairman Eugene "Pete" O'Grady and several state officeholders and candidates from both parties have asked Ohio Bell officials for a check of their lines.

Newsman got into the act too. One newsman calling Republican headquarters extended greetings to the person he was calling "and anybody else on the line."

Several statehouse newsmen have been harassed at home recently with mysterious phone calls. At least two were in the obscene category.

The tap of Andrews' phone, done with wires, was described as the work of an amateur. Professionals in the business now use miniature radio transmitters with no tell-tale wires.

John J. Gilligan, the Democratic nominee for governor will share the spotlight at the state party convention in Columbus this weekend with a man who fared somewhat better on the national political scene.

Gilligan received national attention in 1968 when he defeated Frank J. Lausche in the U.S. Senate primary, only to be defeated in turn by Republican William Saxbe in the general election.

Gilligan will give the keynote convention speech Saturday morning. The principal speaker at a dinner meeting Friday night will be Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton of Missouri.

Eagleton, 41, is one of the youngest members of the Senate. Although he didn't get national attention, he won his race in 1968. He had served terms as attorney general and lieutenant governor in the "show me" state.

The new Ohio Historical Center dedicated at the state fair grounds last week is a tribute to the perseverance of Frederick J. Milligan, a Columbus attorney.

Milligan, who has served the state historical society as president, trustee and general counsel, has been a history buff since childhood.

Milligan still thrills at memories of his boyhood in Wyandot County, where arrowheads could be found in almost every farmer's field and where stories of frontier life still abounded with freshness.

North Viets' MIG Strength Now Tripled

SAIGON (AP) — The Soviet Union has built North Vietnam's MIG fighter strength to nearly three times its size at the height of the air war three years ago, U.S. military sources say.

The Soviets also have modernized the North Vietnamese air force with strong reinforcements of advanced MIG21 jets, rated a match for America's F4 Phantom fighters.

According to latest intelligence, the North Vietnamese now own more than 225 MIGs. They had about 80 in the fall of 1967.

Sources said the Hanoi command pulled back its MIGs from forward bases after losing a MIG21 five months ago while it was harassing a U.S. reconnaissance plane over North Vietnam. That was the 111th MIG kill claimed by the United States since the start of the air war in early 1965.

Air Booze In Foil Packages May Be A Little Premature

WASHINGTON (AP) — A few extra drops of liquor for two cents less and no noisy glass bottles to worry about.

Those are advantages of a new aluminum foil packet of liquor designed to replace the conventional miniature bottles served aboard airliners. But some airlines aren't buying.

"We have the feeling that probably this has come along too soon," said Martin Little of American Airlines. "We probably will not offer use of it until later," he said, following six weeks of testing.

Pan American World Airways also tested the foil packet encased in cardboard. But Pan

AM is sticking with bottles.

"If they come through with something that won't crush, that can be stored and won't crumble and break, we might try it again," a spokesman said.

On the other hand, Braniff International Airways reported a generally good passenger reaction to test servings of the packets which come in scotch, bourbon, gin, vodka and four cocktails.

Overseas National, one of the largest non-scheduled lines, has been using the packets for three weeks on its charter flights and may use them exclusively.

In addition to being cheaper, lighter and less bulky, a spokesman said, "The stewardesses love them and find them much easier to handle."

The hard-to-spill packets carry instructions in three languages.

The packets save 16 pounds in weight per liquor carrier. A transatlantic flight requires three carriers for the bottle miniatures, but only two when the packets are used.

"And if the manufacturers put them out in a wider range we can stock a greater variety of liquor—brandy, for instance which is very hard to stock in bottles in the quantities required," the Overseas spokesman said.

Another supplemental airline, Trans International, and Wien Consolidated Airlines of Alaska also have been trying out the new drink packets, and other airlines are planning further tests.

Hiram Walker & Sons, Inc., a leading distributor of miniature alcoholic servings for airlines, estimates a 35 per cent space save of aluminum foil packets, over glass miniatures.

The company said that while a miniature glass bottle weighs 4.5 ounces, with liquor accounting for only 1.6 ounces of the total, the new packet contains 1.8 ounces of liquor and has only 0.2 of an ounce of aluminum foil and cardboard packaging.

On the basis of a survey of 16 airlines representing more than 50 per cent of the world's airline traffic, the magazine Air Transport World estimated that the airlines this year would use more than 125 million average miniatures.

Fishing Prospects Perky As Summer Season Wanes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio fishermen heading toward the end of the summer fishing season still are reporting good catches across the state.

The outlook by areas:

LAKE ERIE — Walleye fishing remains good in the reef and island area and perch fishing continues to be outstanding in Sandusky Bay, Huron Pier, Port Clinton areas and in the vicinity of Feghorn. Channel catfish continue to hit nightcrawlers and freshwater drum are being taken throughout the lake. Smallmouth bass are hitting crabs, spinners and minnows in the vicinity of Gull Reef, Gibraltar, Kellys Island and Ruggles Beach.

CENTRAL OHIO — Trolling for walleyes in the Old Indian

Lake area is producing fair catches and a few white bass averaging 15 inches are being taken on spinners fished along the shoreline. Largemouth bass and northern pike catches also are reported in trolling near the weeded areas using artificial lures. At Hoover Reservoir wall-eyes are being caught by trolling at night in the area south of County Road Bridge.

NORTHWEST — Muskies are being taken at Clearfork Reservoir by trolling minnow-type lures along the edge of the weed beds late in the evening or early morning. At Charles Mill Reservoir bass fishing is good in the evening using surface lures.

NORTHEAST — Mogadore Reservoir is producing large catches of bluegills and redear sunfish at 10-foot depths with maggots preferred bait. Largemouth bass are hitting well in the vicinity of the dam at the south end of Mosquito Lake.

SOUTHEAST — Bluegills, crappies and some walleye are going into the creeks of Salt Fork Lake anglers and some bass are being caught in the late evening on surface lures. Walleyes and muskies also are hitting at Piedmont. Bluegills and redear sunfish are hitting on worms at Burr Oak Lake.

SOUTHWEST — Most streams in this area are clear and normal except in the southern section of the district where they are slightly higher than normal and rocky. Fishing is good in the southern area with smallmouth and rock bass being taken on crayfish, worms and small spinners. At Lake St. Marys, channel catfish being taken on crayfish and a few largemouth bass in the early morning on spinners and minnows.

Oregon Beefs Security For Legion Parley

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Gov. Tom McCall has drawn praise for his announcement that he would have enough force on hand to deal with any violence should antiwar demonstrators and American Legionnaires confront each other during the Legion convention which opens Friday.

McCall said in a statewide Radio and TV broadcast federal troops would be ready to back up the Oregon National Guard.

Three Portland television stations said they had received 85 favorable calls, three unfavorable calls and two indecisive ones. The governor's office has received 43 calls or telegrams supporting McCall's statement.

McCall announced some 4,500 guardsmen would be stationed in the Portland area during the convention. The guard last week completed special riot control training at Fort Lewis.

On the Portuguese island, Sao Tome, off the west coast of Africa, chocolate sweetens life. There cacao is the main cash crop. A chocolate factory on the island roasts the beans and shatters them into fragments. This process generates enough frictional heat to liquefy the cocoa butter, creating a chocolate liquor. Poured into molds and allowed to solidify, the liquor, becomes the unsweetened or bitter chocolate that housewives use in baking.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — An aging electrician struggles to move a heavy lamp on a movie set. Other men step forward to help him.

Until six months ago, by union rules they too would have had to be electricians. Now they can be propmen or stagehands.

In a crossing of union jurisdictional lines, members of the three unions now can help one another.

in a "comeback contract" announced by movie production and union leaders at a news conference last February in Los Angeles Mayor Sam Yorty's office.

Their goal: to stimulate lagging domestic production in the face of heavy "runaway" to foreign shores, where the lures include exotic locales and financial subsidies.

The "comeback contract" has produced both increased domestic filming and bitter dissension. Twenty-two films that otherwise would not have been made or would have been made abroad have been shot with Hollywood-based crews, either here or elsewhere in the United States.

For members of craft unions they meant 45,966 man-days of work and earnings of $3,238,145.

But a representative of the Teamsters Union calls it a "clandestine agreement" and "giveaway deal." An official of the film technicians' locals says it has created animosity among rank-and-file employees. Some see it as a lowering of standards, another union man says.

The one-year "comeback contract" between the producers' association and craft unions, represented by the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees, is scheduled for review in September. It applies to films budgeted at $1 million or less.

But the technicians' officials say some producers see the contract as a sign of weakness and "have reinterpreted it to include television series, commercials, educational and industrial films, which are different entities."

Teamsters, who say they were left out of the agreement, are unhappy about the change in the "studio zone."

Actors and crews formerly got themselves to work on any film shooting within six miles of the producers association headquarters. Beyond that they were driven in Teamster-chauffeured limousines and buses.

Now the zone in which film workers must provide their own transportation has been extended to a 30-mile radius of the producers association office.

A Teamsters spokesman estimates this has meant an average loss of 25 drivers per day. Now they drive only equipment trucks, and even that work has diminished. Costumes, props and electrical gear, formerly trucked separately, now are often hauled on one truck.

The national secretary of the South African Hairdressers' Employees Industrial Union, Mr. Daniel, supported the council and said: "Hairdressers who do not wear pocketless overalls tend to put combs and scissors in their pockets instead of in sterilizers."

CONTRACT BRIDGE

By B. Jay Becker

(Top Record-Holder in Masters' Individual Championship Play)

TEST YOUR PLAY

1. You are West, defending against Four Spades after this bidding:

South West North East
2 ♠ Pass 3 ♠ Pass
3 ♠ Pass 4 ♠ Pass

You lead the ace of clubs on which East plays the four and South the king. How would you defend the hand?

♥ A K Q 7 5
♣ 9 7 6 5

♠ K 10
♥ J 6 4
♦ A J 9 6
♣ A J 3 2

2. You are declarer with the West hand at Four Hearts. North leads the A-K-Q of diamonds, South following suit. How would you play the hand?

♠ A K 8
♥ A K Q 10 5
♦ J 4
♣ Q 9 3

♠ 6 4 3 2
♦ 9 5 2
♣ A K J 10

1. It is obvious from both the bidding and the sight of dummy that you have no chance of defeating the contract unless declarer is void of hearts. Acting on this assumption, you should therefore play the ten of spades at trick two, hoping in this way to prevent declarer from ever reaching dummy to utilize the A-K-Q of hearts.

As it happens, you strike home if you make this exotic play. It turns out that South, not too surprisingly, has:

♠ A Q J 9 8 3 2
♥ K Q 10 5
♦ K Q
♣ K Q

and your trump shift is the killing blow. Thus, if you had continued with a club at trick two, South would win with the queen, lead the king of diamonds, and make the contract by losing only a diamond, a club and a trump.

It may appear suicidal to deliberately lose a trump trick by leading a spade at trick two, but for practical purposes that is the only chance you have of stopping the contract.

2. Ruff the diamond and lead the ten of hearts! This eccentric play practically assures the contract. If you were to cash the A-K-Q instead, hoping to find the trumps divided 3-3 or to drop the doubleton jack, you would go down if either opponent had the J-x-x-x of trumps and less than three clubs.

By leading the ten of hearts first, you maintain control of the hand. The opponent who wins with the jack cannot profitably return a diamond, since you would ruff it in dummy. Whatever else he returns, you draw trumps with the A-K-Q and make the contract except in the unlikely event that the trumps are divided 5-1.

Hospital-To-Physician HookupNowConsidered

ALTON, Ill. (AP) — The intensive care unit of St. Anthony's Hospital is considering a doctors' request for an electrocardiogram hookup directly into the homes of physicians.

The doctors now have hookups from the unit at the hospital to their offices. A similar setup in their homes would enable them to keep a constant watch on a patient's heart problems.

The private room intensive unit and special coronary care unit were created from four rooms at the end of a third floor hallway. It was built after urging by physicians.

A constant cardiogram is shown on a screen and is fed into a doctor's office.

Realistic Moon Map

MANCHESTER, England (AP) — Manchester University Library is showing one of the largest, detailed maps of the moon in the world — a map intended to give the viewer the feeling he is stepping on the moon. Zdenek Copla of the Manchester University Department of Astronomy working with the U. S. Air Force and the National Aeronautical and Space Administration prepared the map, which goes on permanent display.

Robbs In New Home

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (AP) — Charles Robb and his wife, former President Lyndon B. Johnson's daughter Lynda Bird, have moved into a 10-room, $59,500 house so Robb can be nearer the University of Virginia where he will begin law school this fall. Real estate sources said the Robbs signed a contract to buy the home June 23.

Your Horoscope

The Stars Say — By ESTRELLITA

For Tomorrow

PLANETARY influences now stimulate ambition, aggressiveness and initiative. This could be a really big day in your life — on all counts! Outstanding projects should be successfully completed and you could also launch new enterprises without fear of failure. Evening could bring some surprising — and heartwarming — news.

For The Birthday

If tomorrow is your birthday, your horoscope indicates a good year. Financial earnings should be stepped up, in varying stages, during November, January, early March and mid-July. It will be important, however, to avoid extravagance and/or speculation during intervening periods or you could offset gains. On the job front, you should find opportunities to advance during an excellent cycle beginning on Oct. 10 and lasting until mid-January, with further upturns star-promised in late March, early May and during another truly excellent 3-month period beginning on June 1. Creative workers should find this a highly profitable year — with outstanding periods of accomplishment indicated in November, January and June.

On the personal side, October, December, late March and August will be excellent for romance; October, December, January, April and August auspicious for travel. Domestic concerns should run smoothly for most of the year, but do try to avoid friction in close circles during February and July.

A child born on this day will be endowed with the talents required to make an excellent jurist, horticulturist or mathematician; may take up music as an avocation.

BOSTON (AP) — "I love it," said 18-year-old Christine Gaudry. "All the guys are simply great."

Christine, a senior at St. Clare High School in Woonsocket, R.I., was talking of her summer vacation job as a tool crib clerk at a construction project.

She is the only female and youngest in the crew.

Her father, Thaddeus J. Gaudry, is project superintendent at the construction of a health laboratory.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A tall, skinny guy in the white jeans and sports shirt lopes around the CBS rehearsal hall these days with a happy grin on his face. He is Jim Nabors, 15 pounds lighter, $100,000 poorer, but glad he survived his holiday from television.

"Come here, sit down and let me tell you about it," he ordered eagerly. "You just wouldn't believe."

He launched into a tale that would keep a soap opera in plots for six months.

When the final "Jim Nabors Hour" of his first CBS season as a variety star was taped, the pride of Sylacauga, Ala., hopped off on the first leg of a long anticipated trip around the world.

While over the Pacific, he was stricken with severe pains in the back. Doctors on the plane gave first aid but suspected something very serious, and Nabors stayed in the Philippines for further treatment. Feeling a little better, he flew to Australia, visiting friends Tommy Leonetti and his wife, where his ailment was diagnosed as an obscure type of virus infection.

"I felt a little better and I kept on going," Jim continued, "but I sure didn't think much about all those places, like Hong Kong."

Eventually, he got back home, still feeling rocky, but managed to pull together his part of the act that he and Carol Burnett were to present in the Nevada resort communities.

"Well, then I picked up some strep infection in my throat, and it was all swollen up," Jim said. "And to make things worse, I followed the doctor's instructions and took a pill that put me to sleep—and when I woke up my throat had closed and I thought I was strangling."

That also required first aid. But somehow Jim and Carol managed to finish their bookings.

"So I finally came home—and found that my house had burned down," he concluded. "Fortunately my mother, who had been staying there, had gone to visit my sister, and nobody was hurt. But I lost a lot of things that can't be replaced, like paintings and photographs. And I also discovered that I should have had about $100,000 more in insurance coverage."

In the course of all this Jim dropped 15 pounds the hard way and decided to keep a closer eye on his business affairs.

Now he is happily back at work for the new season with Frank Sutton, Karne Morrow and Ronnie Scholl.

Columbus Man Faces Charge In Coed's Death

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — First-degree murder and armed robbery charges were added Thursday to a raft of counts pending against Paul David Shreve, 30, of Columbus.

Police accused Shreve of the July 26 slaying of Susan Clark, 23, an Ohio State University graduate student, during a robbery attempt in her apartment.

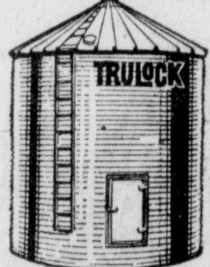

Shreve was arrested last week in Indiana when he tried to get hospital treatment for a bullet wound he reportedly received in a shootout with liquor agents during an attempted restaurant holdup Aug. 15.

Shreve also faces four counts of assault with intent to rob and charges of rape, burglary and auto theft. Those charges stemmed from a series of incidents the day before the attempted restaurant holdup.

Israeli Planes Hit Targets Inside Jordan

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli warplanes attacked Arab guerrilla bases in Jordan today following hostilities on the Lebanese and Jordanian borders in which 10 Arabs and one Israeli soldier were killed and seven Israelis were wounded, the military command said.

The planes bombed and strafed targets about three miles inside Jordan and about 25 miles north of the Dead Sea, a spokesman said.

In action Thursday night, Israeli soldiers intercepted a group of Arab commandos in the occupied Golan Heights of Syria, killing seven of the guerrillas. One Israeli was wounded in the clash, a spokesman said. The Israeli command said the commando group came from the village of Kafr Shaba, in southeast Lebanon.

Three Arabs and one Israeli soldier were killed in a clash between an army patrol and a band of guerrillas near the Israeli border settlement of Kfar Ruppin, in the Jordan River valley, the military command said.

Another Israeli soldier was wounded near the Lebanese border when guerrillas fired on his vehicle near the settlement of Misgav Am. And in another attack on the Lebanese border, four Israeli border policemen and a soldier were wounded in a guerrilla mortar ambush near the Yiftah kibbutz in Upper Galilee.

The Israelis returned the fire, a spokesman said, but there was no indication of any Arab casualties.

On the diplomatic front, sources at U.N. headquarters in New York said they expected the Arab-Israeli peace talks which opened there this week to go on for months. But an Egyptian spokesman predicted today they would break down before the 90-day cease-fire period ends at midnight Nov. 5.

The Fayette County Board of Education received a direct distribution of $2,596 and an allotment from the Miami Trace School District of an additional $1,673.

The two districts also were credited with a total of $23,795 for the teacher retirement fund and $4,661 for employee retirement.

County Schools 'Crisis' Viewed

Possible loss of 30 per cent of the Miami Trace School District budget and increases in operating costs were the major concerns of the Fayette County Board of Education Thursday.

The board voted to raise the cost of school lunches 5 cents per meal and to meet Sept. 8, to consider the financial crisis caused by the reduction of the district operating millage.

The 17.7 mill operating millage was reduced to 17.1 mills by the Fayette County Budget revaluation of the district land this year. The commission was required by state statute to reduce the millage in proportion to the increase in revenues caused by revaluation.

The revised millage left the district below the state set minimum of 17.5 mills for operation. Districts below the minimum are not eligible to receive Ohio Foundation money, which accounts for about 30 per cent of the school district's operating budget.

Superintendent of Schools Guy M. Foster told the board members that he had consulted with attorneys of the Ohio Department of Education concerning the problem.

THE DISTRICT has until Jan. 1, 1971 to place the additional millage on the tax books, or face loss of state funds at the July 1, 1971 distribution.

The school board must decide at its next meeting whether or not to seek the additional millage.

"The Miami Trace School District cannot afford to lose the state funds," Foster said. Adding to the question of operating funds is the $100,000 deficit still facing the system for 1971 operations.

The board must decide whether to seek only the four-tenths of a mill necessary to meet the state requirements for Foundation Funds, or seek additional millage to also meet the expected $100,000 deficit.

The board has until Sept. 15, to file a resolution with the Fayette County Board of Elections seeking placement of the issue on the November ballot.

In addition to the needed new operating levy, the board has committed itself to supporting a 2.3-mill vocational education school tax levy and a 3.3-mill middle school tax issue.

IN AN EFFORT to live within it, already tight budget, the board members voted to raise the cost of school lunches by five cents for the coming year.

The new lunch costs are 40 cents in grades 1-3, 45 cents in 4-6 and 55 cents for adults. The costs of extra milk also was raised. The new prices are 7 cents as compared with 3 cents before.

Superintendent Foster and Phyrn Jones, lunch room supervisor, investigated the rising costs and possible federal aid on the lunches before making the suggestions for price increases.

Salaries of lunchroom employees have increased 5-6 per cent, and school food costs have increased as much as 15 per cent in the past year, they reported to the board.

The federal government also has failed to pass a bill to subsidize the costs of extra milk this year. The federal subsidy had made it possible for the district to sell the milk for 3 cents.

Student participation in selecting the type of foods to be served at the lunches will be sought by the administration this year, Foster said.

TRANSFER OF 13 seventh graders at Eber School to Bloomingburg School also was ordered by the board.

The transfer was necessitated by large seventh grade at Eber school and a small class at Bloomingburg, plus the need to hold special education classes at the Eber school building.

Students involved in the transfer live in Union Township, near the north end of Washington C. H., according to Foster. They will be informed of the change this week, he said. The students will be bused directly to Bloomingburg school instead of being made to transfer at Eber school, he said.

MONEY again became a problem when Charles Blizard, representing the local unit of the Ohio Public School Employees association met with the board to request increases in pay for district bus drivers.

Blizard said some of the drivers were not satisfied with pay scale alterations made by the board. He did not specify how many of the drivers were dissatisfied, stating only that he had not been able to hold a meeting with them, but that he knew some of them wanted increases.

Board President Marion Waddle responded that the increases were made in keeping with salaries paid in surrounding districts and in view of the financial problems in the county.

Currently the drivers are paid for maximum of six and a half hours of work per day at a rate of $2.80 per hour.

The scale for extra trips was increased by the board, and the maximum number of hours paid was raised by 30 minutes earlier this year. The hourly pay begins from the time the driver leaves his home door until he returns. Waddle, speaking for the board, said he did not believe the district could afford pay increases at this time.

THE INCREASES granted by the board earlier in the year had resulted in raises of up to $400 annually for some bus drivers.

No across-the-board raises were given to bus drivers. Extra-duty assignments were made for the coming year. Charles Wallace was named head freshman football coach and Dale Creamer, assistant freshman football coach. John Wedgewood was appointed assistant marching band director and Paul Febo was named elementary music director.

New teachers hired by the board include Ronald Hodge, Columbus, Jeffersonville Junior High School; Mrs. Dorothea Harvey, Columbus, 3-4 grade at Bloomingburg; Mrs. Shirley Newell, Dayton, Staunton Elementary School; Richard Bell, 1025 Dayton Ave., Bloomingburg Junior High School; Mrs. Donna Brown, Columbus, high school Spanish; and Mrs. Margaret Duncan, Wilmington, Title I reading teacher.

Glenn Marchal was transferred from Jeffersonville to the high school as a math teacher. All existing teaching vacancies in the district are now filled, Foster announced.

Salary adjustments for teachers who obtained additional hours of college education during the summer were made for Mrs. Celeste Armentrout, John Wedgewood, Gerald Burner, Charles Wallace, Glenn and Betty Hutchison, Burner, Wallace and Mr. and Mrs. Hutchison received their master's degrees during the summer.

In final action, the board approved the school handbook and dress code for the coming year. There were no substantial changes in the code.

Fund Raising Drive Continues For Audio System

The fund raising campaign for a new sound system at the Miami Trace High School auditorium, gymnasium and football field has reached the $2,800 level.

The fund raising committee is seeking total donations of $3,500 to pay half the cost of the sound system. The Fayette County Board of Education has consented to pay the remaining cost.

Edward Thompson, co-chairman of the committee, announced Friday that the campaign will last only a short time longer. Residents of the school district are asked to contact members of the fund raising committee to make contributions.

Never Knew Slain Girl, Collins Says

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — John Norman Collins publicly proclaimed his innocence for the first time today—just before he was sentenced to life imprisonment on a conviction of killing an Eastern Michigan University coed.

The 23-year-old Collins declared his innocence in a high, somewhat squeaky voice when Circuit Court Judge John W. Conlin asked if he had anything to say before the mandatory life sentence was imposed.

Collins stood up and said: "There are two things. First, I honestly feel that this community tried to give me a fair trial...but I think that it was a travesty of justice which took place in this court over the past six or seven weeks. I hope some day that error will be corrected."

"Second, I never knew a girl by the name of Karen Sue Beineman. I never held a conversation with Karen Sue Beineman. I never took her to a wig shop. I never took her to my uncle's home...I did not take the life of Karen Sue Beineman."

Collins was convicted Aug. 19 of killing Miss Beineman, an 18-year-old Grand Rapids, Mich., girl. She was last seen alive July 23, 1969, and her nude and battered body was found three days later.

Burglars Loot Store At New Martinsburg

Losses were estimated at nearly $900 in an assortment of larceny complaints, malicious property destruction incidents and a store burglary, investigated by city police and Fayette County sheriff's deputies Thursday and Friday morning.

Hardest hit was the Ellis Grocery Market in New Martinsburg, where thieves overnight Wednesday robbed the store of cigarettes and cash valued at an estimated total of $431.20.

Cheif Deputy Sheriff Robert McArthur said that entry was gained to the store through a rear storeroom window. Once inside the storeroom, the intruders forced open a door leading into the store.

The burglary occurred sometime between 9 p.m. Wednesday and 8 a.m. Thursday. Taken were 10 cartons of cigarettes and approximately $400 in currency kept in a money bag, Deputy McArthur said.

An antique railroad switch light valued at $150 was taken from a driveway post at the home of Dana Hyer, 1006 Briar Ave., during the night Wednesday. City police said the kerosene-operated lamp was chained and locked to the post.

A 1967 model motorcycle stolen Thursday morning from the garage of Norman Moore, 514 Gregg St., was recovered at 5 p.m. Thursday in the parking lot at Landmark, 801 Delaware St., police said. Moore reported the theft to police at 5:05 p.m. after a relative found the motorcycle. Only reported damage to the vehicle was to ignition wires.

Damage to the windshield of a 1957 model truck was estimated at $100 after it was broken by a thrown object at 3:30 p.m. Thursday.

Robert E. Arrasmith, of Waynesville, told police the object was thrown by someone

Negro Mother Scarred By Burial Fight

MIAMI (AP) — A Negro mother whose court fight won a burial plot in an all-white cemetery for her son killed in Vietnam says the experience has left her unwilling to let two younger sons go to war.

Even as the arguments over a burial site for Spec. 4 Pondexter E. Williams were being heard Thursday in a judge's office, Mary Campbell spoke of her son who was killed Aug. 8 by a mortar barrage.

"All these proceedings, papers and hearings—they didn't need any of this to send him over there to die," she said. "My son gave his life. There wasn't anything else he could give. Then this."

"I have two other sons," she said referring to Andrew, 15, and Amos, 14, who were at home with Mrs. Campbell's three daughters. "After this I would not want them to go into the service."

After receiving the order allowing her to bury Williams at the all-white cemetery, Mrs. Campbell said: "I'm glad it's over with. I'm going back to bury my boy. I'm grateful, very grateful, and God has heard my prayers."

New Troubles Mark Dixie School Start

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A North Carolina school was bombed, armed demonstrators paraded in a small Georgia town and Virginia officials planned a possible U.S. Supreme Court appeal amid efforts to desegregate more Southern schools.

Damage was minor at the formerly all black Bullock School near Rocky Mount, N.C., where two dynamite blasts went off Thursday night. No one was hurt. Bullock is being combined with an all-white school in Edgecombe County, which opens Monday.

Several hundred blacks—some carrying holstered weapons—paraded Thursday night in Sparta, Ga., to protest a desegregation plan that retains both Hancock County high schools while concentrating white pupils in one. There are 2,300 blacks in the school system and 250 whites.

It was the sixth straight demonstration but there were no incidents or arrests.

Richmond, Va., officials in the meantime prepared to ask the Supreme Court to stay the city's court-ordered desegregation plan which calls for busing 13,000 of the city's 50,000 school children.
